[When patients] participate more actively in the process of medical care, we can create a new healthcare system with higher quality services, better outcomes, lower costs, fewer medical mistakes, and happier, healthier patients. We must make this the new gold standard of healthcare quality and the ultimate goal of all our improvement efforts:

Not better hospitals.

Not better physician practices.

Not more sophisticated electronic medical systems.

Happier, healthier patients.

is a good safety check so that no one can register you as a user without your permission.

After you click on the confirmation email link and log in for the first time, you will be brought to a user profile page where you can personalize some of your user experience. There is absolutely nothing that you have to do on this page, but our technology savvy users might enjoy playing here. This completes the registration process.

Now you can go to Connected Visions, Log In with your new username and password and comment away!
